STEVE BISCIOTTI

OWNER

COLLEGE: SALISBURY STATE UNIVERSITY
BORN: 4/10/60, PHILADELPHIA, PA
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 27/27

STEVE BISCIOTTI is in his 27th year as an owner of the Ravens. The passionate Bisciotti, 66, originally bought a minority interest in the team from Art Modell in 2000 and then completed the majority purchase of the franchise on April 9, 2004.

Steve's initial investment in the Ravens provided funds to secure free agents for the 2000 Super Bowl XXXV Championship team. Baltimore would later go on to win Super Bowl XLVII during the 2012 campaign, capturing the franchise's second world title in just 17 seasons. (Since the turn of the century, the Ravens are one of eight NFL teams to win multiple Super Bowl championships.)

Since taking over as the Ravens' full owner (2004), Bisciotti's teams have earned the playoffs a total of 13 times, including the AFC's No. 1 seed in 2019 (14-2 record) and 2023 (13-4 record). Baltimore has also captured seven AFC North crowns under Steve's leadership, including a division-best four in the past eight seasons (2018-25).

When Bisciotti hired former head coach John Harbaugh in 2008, some eyebrows were raised. Harbaugh had never been a head coach at any level, nor an NFL offensive or defensive coordinator. It was a decision that ultimately produced a Hall of Fame-worthy career. Along with the Super Bowl XLVII victory, Baltimore advanced to the playoffs in each of Harbaugh's first five years and made 12 postseason appearances in 18 seasons overall.

Entering 2026, Bisciotti and the Ravens embark on a new era with Jesse Minter, 43, who was named the fourth head coach in franchise history on Jan. 22.

"Jesse was impressive throughout our incredibly thorough interview process," Bisciotti stated. "He clearly understands the values, high expectations and history of the Ravens, and he has a great vision for the future. Jesse's football acumen is outstanding, and that's been proven by the impact he's made throughout his entire coaching career. He is also a leader who will authentically connect with our players and inspire them to championship levels. It was clear to us that Jesse is a special talent who has what it takes to lead us as head coach of the Ravens."

An energetic visionary, Steve is quietly dedicated to several important causes and projects, some associated with his deep Catholic faith. He is a board member of Catholic Charities, and with his wife, Renee, created The Bisciotti Family Foundation. Much of their extensive charity work and generous giving are done without public notice.

The Bisciotti Family Foundation and the Ravens have partnered on numerous philanthropic efforts, supporting organizations such as the Fund for Educational Excellence, the United Way of Central Maryland, the Baltimore Community Foundation and the Maryland Food Bank. They have also contributed to social justice reform by funding 28 programs – chosen by a committee of current and former Ravens players – focused on creating meaningful change throughout Baltimore.

In 2021, they honored Pro Football Hall of Famer and longtime Ravens personnel executive Ozzie Newsome by establishing the Ozzie Newsome Scholars Program, which benefits Baltimore City Public Schools graduates attending Maryland's Historically Black Colleges and Universities (HBCUs). The Bisciotti family also helped establish in 2024 the Ravens College Access program – benefiting CollegeBound, Bridges Baltimore, and College Track – to expand access to higher education.

Another project led by the Bisciotti Family Foundation and Ravens was a substantial funding commitment to the Boys & Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Baltimore, which resulted in the

"My responsibilities are not only to my family and the people who work for the Ravens. There are over a million stakeholders in the Baltimore area who we have an obligation to. They're the fans who invest more than three hours on Sunday to watch, listen to or attend our games. That's a big difference from owning a non-sports company."

– Steve Bisciotti on owning the Ravens

"What really strikes me about Steve is his loyalty to the friends he's had forever. A lot of people, when they become very successful like Steve, they move on. His friends are the same ones he grew up with. That's one of his strengths."

– Longtime Maryland basketball coach Gary Williams

2025 opening of the Baltimore Ravens Boys & Girls Club at Hilton Recreation Center. Additionally, the foundation has directed significant grants toward Baltimore-area hospitals to grow the nursing workforce, and separately, supports Baltimore's Healthy Harbor Initiative.

Born in Philadelphia on April 10, 1960, Bisciotti moved with his family to Baltimore (Severna Park) in March of 1961 when Steve, the youngest of three children, was 11 months old. His father, Bernard, took the children to Orioles and Colts games. Sadly, Bernard died of leukemia when Steve was 8. His mother, Patricia, a huge Ravens fan, then raised the children.

After graduating from Salisbury (Md.) State University in 1982 with a degree in liberal arts, Bisciotti worked in the temporary help industry. In 1983 (at age 23), he started Aerotek with his cousin, Jim Davis. They offered aerospace and technology companies access to skilled temporary employees. Aerotek is part of Allegis Group, the largest staffing firm in the United States and the largest privately held talent management firm in the world. The company, headquartered just outside Baltimore, has offices throughout North America, Europe and Asia Pacific. Allegis Group has over 15,000 internal employees and 110,000 employees assigned to client engagements. These include engineers, scientists, IT professionals, accountants, attorneys and industrial workers.

Before purchasing the Ravens, Bisciotti's business success was not well known to the public on a national level, or even notable in the Baltimore area, where he and his partners kept a low profile. "I'm OK if I'm one of the least known owners in pro sports," Bisciotti says.

Bisciotti enjoys golfing, boating and spending time with his seven grandchildren. He and his wife, Renee (Foote), have two sons, Jason and Jack, who reside with their families in the Baltimore area.

(Bisciotti is pronounced: bih-SHAH-tee.)

QUOTH THE RAVEN: STEVE BISCIOTTI

"I remember going to a couple of Colts games every season with my dad or mom and brother (Mike) and sister (Cathy Thomas). We were on the 10-yard line, lower deck. We'd go to O's games, too. My favorite player was Paul Blair, because my brother already claimed Brooks Robinson and would not let me take the same guy. We'd also go to Westminster [Md.] for Colts training camp. We have pictures with various players, and I have one with me wearing Johnny Unitas' helmet. I would always ask the Colts players if I could wear their helmets."

ERIC DECOSTA

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER

COLLEGE: COLBY
BORN: 4/10/71, TAUNTON, MA
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 31/31

ERIC DECOSTA's loyalty, love and pride for the Baltimore Ravens are unmatched. A pillar of the organization's well-laid foundation, DeCosta has been with the franchise since Day One, first beginning as an intern during the inaugural 1996 season and then ascending to the personnel department's chief decision-maker in 2019.

Prior to being named executive vice president and general manager – succeeding the legendary Ozzie Newsome – DeCosta, 55, received GM interview offers annually from multiple teams over the years. Yet, he never seriously considered leaving Baltimore, because Eric's respect for – and thorough understanding of – the Ravens' culture aligned perfectly with his dream job.

"I'm the kind of person who appreciates people who stick with things," DeCosta admits. "Even when I think about athletes I've admired, people I've admired, they've had long tenures in different places. But I love this community. My family is from this community. I love the people I work with day to day. Anyone who knows me knows that."

In 2007, Ravens owner Steve Bisciotti first approached DeCosta about someday becoming general manager. Years later, they decided Eric would continue to serve as Newsome's top lieutenant through 2018, helping groom him for the GM role and setting up a seamless transition.

"Did I have chances [to leave]? Yes," DeCosta shares. "Did I have a lot? Yes. Did I ever really consider it? Not really, because every time I'd go to bed thinking that maybe I would consider something, I'd wake up and say, 'What are you, crazy? You know you're going to have the job someday that you've dreamed about, so just wait and make it perfect.'"

From an outside perspective, the imminent ascension might have spawned challenges in DeCosta's relationship with Newsome. That was never the case, however, because the duo has always had a remarkable connection – one that forged a rare professional partnership and an extraordinary friendship.

"He's an outside-the-box thinker, but his football beliefs are based on substance, history and collected wisdom. He can see the unintended consequences that come with certain big decisions. He'll push the envelope to make sure we're covering all possibilities."

– Ravens EVP Ozzie Newsome on Eric DeCosta

"Ozzie basically took a 25-year-old kid who had no experience in the NFL, who was so different from him, and gave me a chance and accepted me," DeCosta says fondly. "He and I have always been very different in a lot of ways, but so aligned. It's a special relationship in my life. I've learned a lot of football, but honestly, just a lot more about being a good person."

A graduate of the Ravens' "20/20 Club," which includes members of the personnel staff who started with the team as young assistants and grew into evaluators with more input, DeCosta quickly moved up the ranks. He was first a personnel intern (1996), then area scout (1997-2002), then director of college scouting (2003-08), then director of player personnel (2009-11) and then assistant GM (2012-18).

It became evident early in DeCosta's tenure that he was destined for NFL success. Brimming with passion, resourcefulness, a relentless attitude and an advanced aptitude, he quickly earned his co-workers' respect.

"When Ray Lewis walked into camp his first day, he never really was truly a rookie," former Ravens SVP of football operations Pat Moriarty recalls. "He was Ray Lewis, our starting linebacker. [That same year of 1996], I think Eric was never 'Eric the Intern.' He was more than a scout."

Raised in Taunton, MA, DeCosta set his sights on becoming an NFL GM from the age of 6. His interest first piqued in 1978,

ERIC DECOSTA

"Perhaps we should just change the name of the NFL Draft to the 'Ravens Invitational,' because nobody crushes this event – year-in and year-out – like Baltimore. Take a bow, Eric DeCosta – you continue to do the great Ozzie Newsome proud." – NFL.com's Adam Schein when, contrary to many of his friends who were Patriots and Broncos fans, he began to follow the Cowboys.

"I was fascinated by the Cowboys and Tom Landry, Gil Brandt, Tex Schramm – the whole notion of scouting and building a football team," DeCosta states. "Doing things differently than all the other teams did back then really appealed to me."

Throughout much of his upbringing, Eric would study the NFL – particularly the draft – in a detailed manner that continuously amazed friends and family members.

His passion for the game of football was also quite evident on the field. Though, admittedly, he was never the biggest, fastest, smartest or most talented athlete, DeCosta was undoubtedly the hardest worker – someone always seeking ways to make himself better and gain a competitive edge.

While attending Colby College in Maine, the undersized linebacker went on to become a three-year starter and senior captain. He knew every assignment on the gridiron, holding himself to the highest of standards, all while inspiring teammates to reach new levels.

After graduating from Colby in 1992, DeCosta took part in a graduate coaching fellowship for the football team at Trinity University, where he would also earn a master's in English. But as time passed, he became uncertain about where a coaching path would lead. Looking to maximize his options, Eric applied to law school and prepared to pursue a new career, rather than cling to his football passion.

However, a chance encounter reinvigorated DeCosta's football pursuits in 1995, when he met someone who had completed an internship with Washington's NFL team. Upon learning of such NFL opportunities, Eric immediately sent resumes and letters to all 32 clubs. In response, he received rejection notices from all but one team – Washington – which hired him to serve as a training camp intern.

Thanks to that experience, DeCosta had finally – and successfully – broken into the NFL. The following year (1996), he landed the Ravens' personnel internship during their first-ever season. Coincidentally, he accepted Baltimore's offer the same day he learned that he had been placed on the University of Connecticut Law School waitlist.

"I was willing to take a chance," DeCosta affirms, "because I knew that once I got to Baltimore, I'd do everything to make the most of my opportunity."

The rest, as they say, is history – something bolstered by loyalty, love and pride from a man who helped build an organization, just as much as the organization built him.

"The Draft is the lifeblood of this organization, & we take it very seriously. We try to make it a science — we really do. But in the end, it's probably more of an art than a science. There's a lot of nuance involved. It's a big-picture thing. It's a lot of bits & pieces of information. It's gut instinct. It's experience, which I think is really, really important."

JESSE MINTER

HEAD COACH

COLLEGE: COLLEGE OF MOUNT SAINT JOSEPH (IN)
BORN: 5/9/83, LITTLE ROCK, AR
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 7/5

JESSE MINTER was hired as the fourth head coach in the Baltimore Ravens' 31-year history on Jan. 22, 2026. Minter, 43, previously spent four seasons (2017-20) with the Ravens, holding various roles on the defensive staff. He now leads the team that provided him his first NFL coaching experience.

Entering his seventh NFL season overall, Minter served as the Los Angeles Chargers' defensive coordinator the past two seasons (2024-25), following two years (2022-23) in the same role at the University of Michigan and one year (2021) at Vanderbilt University.

A proven leader and teacher, brilliant defensive mind and product of a coaching family, Minter has led defensive units to tremendous success throughout his career. With a philosophy predicated on connectivity, he believes in empowering those who surround him, while stressing collaboration, relentless effort and high energy.

"The 'we' is important. It takes everybody to be successful," Minter states. "I look forward to empowering our players and the coaches. We will create our own standards that will allow us to reach our ultimate goals together. We will build a true team built on toughness, fundamentals, a team that plays together, and we will work to be the best team in the National Football League. We will be at our best when our best is needed – I think that's really important."

Minter traveled a winding path that forged perseverance, humility and strength, all with a mission of being his very best – and helping the team be at its very best – no matter where he was.

Prior to his first NFL job with Baltimore – he was hired by former Ravens head coach John Harbaugh – Minter was the defensive coordinator at Georgia State (2013-16) and Indiana State (2011-12), where he originally served as linebackers coach from 2009-10. His initial coaching experience came at Notre Dame, where he was a defensive intern for one season (2006) before joining the University of Cincinnati (2007-08) as a graduate assistant.

"There's nothing guaranteed in this profession," Minter says. "It doesn't owe you anything, and every opportunity is a wonderful opportunity. [You just try] to get your foot in the door in the very beginning, and you never know, and then, finally somebody gives you that shot, and you appreciate it. Then you respect the people that didn't [hire you] and try to work really hard, stay humble and be where your feet are."

Minter's biggest coaching influence while growing up was his father, Rick, who helped Jesse navigate opportunities in the college coaching landscape. Rick – now a senior defensive analyst on his son's Ravens staff – has nearly 50 years of coaching experience, including a decade as head coach at the University of Cincinnati (1994-2003) and as a defensive coordinator at eight different places. Rick and Jesse began working together at Notre Dame in 2006, when Rick was the defensive coordinator. They coached linebackers together at Indiana State in 2010, one year before Rick recommended his son for his first defensive coordinator job in 2011.

The father-son duo then reunited at Georgia State in 2016, but for the first time with Jesse as Rick's boss (Jesse as defensive coordinator and Rick as his defensive line coach). "It was a role reversal," Rick said. "I got to see him in a true leadership role. I started to see how he put things together, how he analyzes the game. … It's been amazing to me as a dad, and a former coach and defensive coordinator, to watch this young man come along. I've just marveled at watching him grow. I think he's earned his stripes. He's ready to roll."

Roll (or fly) with the Ravens is exactly what Jesse aims to do. With his sights set on the future – along with a healthy dose of appreciation for the knowledge and experience he gained in the past – Minter is primed to lead Baltimore into its next era of football.

"When this job opened, it became the one for me, and this was the one that I wanted," he affirms. "I did go through the initial [interview] process with a lot of different teams. But as I was able to reconnect with people in this organization, knowing the history, knowing the tradition, knowing the spine of the organization – what it's built on – there was no better place for me."

COACHING CAREER RECAP: In 2025, under Minter's guidance, the Los Angeles Chargers' defense ranked in the Top 5 in a variety of categories: No. 1 in defensive passer rating (75.0), No. 4 in red zone TD efficiency (46.9%) and No. 5 in each total defense (285.2 ypg), pass defense (179.9 ypg) and third-down percentage (35.2%). As an NFL coach, Jesse Minter has helped guide several players who earned Pro Bowl and/or All-Pro honors:

RAVENS
- ✗ CB Marlon Humphrey (2019-20)
- ✗ CB Marcus Peters (2019)
- ✗ S Earl Thomas (2019)

CHARGERS
- ✗ DE Joey Bosa (2024)
- ✗ S Derwin James (2024-25)
- ✗ OLB Khalil Mack (2024)
- ✗ OLB Tuli Tuipulotu (2025)

In his first season (2024) as defensive coordinator with the Chargers, Minter led a unit that ranked No. 1 in scoring (17.7 ppg), No. 5 in third-down pct. (35.7%) and No. 7 in pass defense (206.9 ypg). The defense featured three Pro Bowl players: James Jr. along with OLBs Joey Bosa and Khalil Mack.

As Michigan's defensive coordinator under Jim Harbaugh for two seasons (2022-23), Minter oversaw the country's top-ranked defense in 2023, capping the campaign with a CFP National Championship. The Wolverines also led the nation in total defense (247.0) and scoring defense (10.4) that year, allowing just 17 TDs over 15 games, the second fewest by any unit in the country despite playing in two more games than the leader. Adding the responsibilities of interim head coach for the season opener, Minter's leadership and direction guided the eventual National Champions to a victory over East Carolina, securing his first official victory as a head coach.

In his lone season at Vanderbilt (2021), Minter served as the defensive coordinator and safeties coach.

As a part of the Ravens' defensive staff from 2017-20, Minter helped Baltimore rank as the second-best total defense in the NFL over that four-year span (312.1 ypg). During that stretch, the Ravens secured three postseason berths and back-to-back AFC North Division crowns (2018-19).

In 2019, Minter helped lead the Ravens' strong secondary, which included three Pro Bowl defenders – CBs Marlon Humphrey (first) and Marcus Peters (third) and S Earl Thomas III (seventh). Baltimore allowed the NFL's third-fewest points (17.6) and fourth-fewest net yards (300.6) per game, en route to a franchise-best 14-2 record and second-straight AFC North division title. The Ravens also ranked fifth vs. the run (93.4 ypg) and No. 6 vs. the pass (207.2 ypg). Baltimore's six defensive TDs in 2019, including five by DBs, tied (with '06 and '08) for the second most in franchise history (2004 – 7) and also tied (TB) for the most in the NFL. Baltimore also recorded the NFL's second-best defensive passer rating (77.5). In his second season with the Ravens (2018), the defense ranked No. 1 in total yards (292.9 ypg), No. 4 in rushing yards (82.9 ypg) and No. 5 in passing yards (210.0 ypg), while their 80.6 defensive passer rating stood No. 2. Baltimore also permitted the league's second-fewest points per game (17.9).

When Minter joined the NFL coaching ranks in 2017, he worked as a Ravens' defensive assistant and was responsible for organizing details of quality control and self-scouting, in addition to conducting opponent analysis for both sides of the ball. He also worked on the field with the defensive backs.

In leading the Georgia State defense (2013-16), the Panthers ranked seventh in pass efficiency in FBS play in 2016, while ranking 19th in yards-per-play average and 22nd in red zone defense. Minter was named the Sun Belt Conference's top recruiter by Scout.com. In 2015, he helped lead the Panthers to their first bowl game (Cure Bowl) in school history. Georgia State was also the most improved rushing and scoring defense in the FBS, finishing Top 4 in conference scoring defense (28.3 ppg), total defense (405.6 ypg) and rushing defense (181.4 ypg).

Minter spent time early in his career coaching at Indiana State (2009-12), University of Cincinnati (2007-08) and Notre Dame (2006).

COLLEGE/PERSONAL: Minter graduated with a bachelor's degree in liberal studies from the College of Mount Saint Joseph in Delhi, Ohio. He was a wide receiver for the Lions' football team, which posted a school-record 30-10 mark during his four years (2002-05), including back-to-back conference titles and Division III playoff appearances.

Minter and his wife, Rachelle, have three children: Millie, Monte and Mac. His father is former University of Cincinnati head football coach Rick Minter, who also coached linebackers for the Philadelphia Eagles (2013-15). Jesse and Rick coached together at Georgia State, with the elder Minter serving as defensive line coach while his son was defensive coordinator. Jesse prepped at Yorktown High School, where he played wide receiver.

"Jesse was impressive throughout our incredibly thorough interview process. He clearly understands the values, high expectations and history of the Ravens, and he has a great vision for the future. Jesse's football acumen is outstanding, and that's been proven by the impact he's made throughout his entire coaching career. He is also a leader who will authentically connect with our players and inspire them to championship levels."

"Jesse is a strong leader who possesses a brilliant football mind and a spirit that will resonate with our players and fanbase alike. Jesse comes from a football family, with success at every level of the sport, and we are confident that he is the right coach to lead the Ravens forward."

– Ravens EVP & GM Eric DeCosta

"[Working with Jesse Minter] has been great so far, honestly. It's been seamless. Obviously, both Jesse and 'Weave' [D.C. Anthony Weaver] have been in Baltimore before and understand what the culture is and the culture that's been set by previous coaches and previous players. They have a great plan for us, and I'm excited. ... I'm excited for what he's going to bring to us. He's a good guy, funny guy, doesn't take everything too seriously, but when it's time to work he works and just goes about his business. He isn't super loud, but he's loud on film when you see him out there."

– Ravens S Kyle Hamilton

"Jesse's got incredible emotional intelligence. That's another part of it that's going to be really important from a leadership perspective. This is a guy who's been able to connect with players, who's been able to get the most out of players. … I think this ends up looking like one of the smarter hires in the market, which shouldn't be any surprise, because it's the Ravens."

– SI.com's Albert Breer

"I wouldn't say you hit a home run with Jesse Minter; I would say you hit a grand slam. He's brilliant in terms of designing a defensive gameplan. He's proved everything you can prove on the defensive side of the ball, and I think relationally – he's so good. I think that's a strength that he can tap into even more as a head coach."

BALTIMORE RAVENS

OZZIE NEWSOME

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT

COLLEGE: ALABAMA
BORN: 3/16/56, MUSCLE SHOALS, AL
EXP. (NFL/RAVENS): 49/31 (13 PLAYING, 36 FRONT OFFICE)

OZZIE NEWSOME's legacy is unlike any the game of football has produced. Simply put, "The Wizard" will forever remain in a class of his own.

Flourishing at every point of his football career, Newsome has not just followed a successful path, he has blazed the trail. Known throughout all of sports as a premier leader, Newsome is a Hall of Fame player, the architect of Baltimore's Super Bowl XXXV and Super Bowl XLVII championship teams and an elite personnel evaluator who became the NFL's first African American general manager in 2002.

(In 2019, Newsome's longtime top lieutenant, Eric DeCosta, took over as the Ravens' EVP & GM. However, Newsome maintains a significant role within the organization as its executive vice president.)

"If Ozzie wasn't already in the Hall of Fame as a tight end, they would be putting him in as a general manager," Hall of Fame GM Bill Polian stated.

"Ozzie is special as a person," former Ravens and current Giants head coach John Harbaugh stated. "Obviously, he's great at what he does – that's proven. He's been great at everything that he's done. If you look at his history, he's a Hall of Famer; he's in every Hall of Fame there is and still counting. For me, it goes beyond that; it goes to who he is as a person – the type of husband he is, the type of father he is, the type of friend he is, confidant, advisor, just all-around good person with a great heart and a strong faith."

Newsome's remarkable football journey began in Leighton, AL, where he first stepped onto the gridiron with the hope of playing college football. That dream turned into a reality when he became a standout at Alabama under Bear Bryant from 1974-77. "Coach Bryant helped me grow up," states Newsome, who has a sideline portrait of the legendary coach and mentor on his office wall. "He pushed me further than I thought I could go, both on and off the field."

In 1978, Cleveland selected Newsome in the first round (23rd overall) of the NFL Draft. Playing 13 years for the Browns, he authored the most productive career for a tight end in the game's history. A three-time Pro Bowler, his 662 receptions for 7,980 yards and 47 TDs stood as NFL records by a TE until Hall of Famer Shannon Sharpe surpassed those marks in 2001 (HOFer Tony Gonzalez now owns the catches and receiving yards marks, while Antonio Gates holds the TDs record).

After his storied playing days, Ozzie joined Cleveland's front office. His initial non-player position came as an assignment scout in 1991. Two years later, he was promoted to a comprehensive role – asst. to the head coach/offense/pro personnel. "I had to find out which direction my career would go," Newsome says. "Art [Modell] gave me the opportunity to work with the coaches, and I enjoyed that. At the same time, I increased my experience with the personnel department and decided that's where I wanted my career to head."

In 1994, Newsome was named the Browns' director of pro personnel. Although he continued to help on the field, Ozzie provided detailed studies on other NFL players and recommended which players the Browns should try to acquire. When the franchise moved to Baltimore in 1996, Mr. Modell invited Newsome and promoted him to vice president of player personnel. From that point, Ozzie's reputation as a supreme talent assessor grew quickly.

In the Ravens' first-ever draft, Newsome tabbed T Jonathan Ogden and LB Ray Lewis (fourth and 26th selections, respectively). Combining to produce an amazing 24 Pro Bowl honors, Ogden became the first Ravens' draft choice elected into the Pro Football Hall of Fame (2013), while Lewis was enshrined in 2018. Fittingly, the duo joined Newsome, who was inducted into the Hall as a Brown in 1999.

Another top Newsome draft pick, S Ed Reed (2002), received a gold jacket in 2019, giving the Ravens three first-ballot Hall of Famers – all selected by "The Wizard."

OZZIE NEWSOME

"He and I have always been very different in a lot of ways, but so aligned. It's a special relationship in my life. I've learned a lot of football, but honestly, just a lot more about being a good person. So, I am extremely happy that Ozzie is going to play such a significant role moving forward for this organization."

– Ravens EVP & GM Eric DeCosta on Ozzie Newsome

Starting with Ogden and Lewis, Newsome consistently compiled impressive draft classes for the Ravens. In the team's first 23 drafts (1996-2018) – all led by Newsome – Baltimore tabbed 24 first-rounders who have earned a total of 68 Pro Bowl honors. When the Ravens had a high pick, they didn't miss. Of the eight players chosen in the Top 10 by Baltimore, five (Ogden, OLB Peter Boulware, CB Chris McAlister, RB Jamal Lewis, the 2003 NFL Offensive POTY, and OLB Terrell Suggs, the 2011 NFL Defensive POTY) earned Pro Bowl accolades. Additionally, Baltimore picked in the bottom half of the first round with uncanny success: Lewis was twice named the NFL Defensive Player of the Year; TE Todd Heap (31st) went to two Pro Bowls; Reed (24th) was chosen an All-Star nine times and earned NFL Defensive Player of the Year in 2004; QB Joe Flacco (18th) was named Super Bowl XLVII MVP, leading the Ravens to their second championship in 2012; LB C.J. Mosley (17th) became the first Ravens rookie to garner Pro Bowl honors after an exceptional 2014 season (and again in 2016-18); and four-time Pro Bowler QB Lamar Jackson (32nd) has twice been named NFL MVP (2019 & 2023), plus earned three first-team All-Pro nods.

Amazingly, in the Ravens' brief history with Ozzie at the helm, he drafted 25 players who earned Pro Bowl honors in Baltimore. When including 2006 Pro Bowl LB Bart Scott, Pro Bowl K Justin Tucker (2013, 2016 & 2019-23), Pro Bowl LS Morgan Cox (2015-16 & 2019-20) and Pro Bowl FB Patrick Ricard (2019-22, 2024-25), who signed as rookie free agents in 2002, 2012, 2010 and 2017, respectively, Baltimore produced 29 homegrown Pro Bowlers under Newsome's leadership.

In addition to his knack for evaluating talent on the field, Newsome also mastered the ability to develop and share insight with scouts who worked under him. Over time, Newsome developed the Ravens' methodical and disciplined draft process, one that's foundation is laid years in advance. Now led by DeCosta, the "process" includes 28 members of the scouting department, but also has feedback from Ravens coaches. Much of Baltimore's staff has been with the team since the franchise started in 1996 or has graduated from the "20/20 Club," a group that consists of members who began with the Ravens as young assistants and grew into evaluators with more input. (The term "20/20" refers to hiring "20-year-olds for $20,000." "Actually, the guys started when they were a little older than 20 and for more than $20,000, but that's what we call them," Newsome adds.)

DeCosta and Newsome encourage all scouts and coaches to have strong opinions, noting specifically that they want to hear what everyone in the room has to say. Because of this philosophy, one of the biggest strengths of the Ravens' personnel team is that "we respect and listen to each other."

"We've been fortunate to have guys who cut their teeth right here in Baltimore, and our methods and philosophies have become engrained," Newsome affirms. "We have had great guys with Phil Savage, 'Shack' [James Harris], George Kokinis, Eric DeCosta and other people who were helping these young scouts along the way. I think that's the secret. It's the way we do things, and the way these guys gravitate to the process of the Baltimore Ravens."

With leadership from Newsome, Baltimore also fosters an environment that breeds standout coaches. By bringing in individuals who embrace the "Raven Way," Baltimore creates a synergy that manufactures success among scouts, coaches and players. As a result, the Ravens have had many assistants move on to become or return as head coaches, both on the collegiate and NFL level: Jim Caldwell (Lions), David Culley (Texans), Jack Del Rio (Jaguars/Raiders), Vic Fangio (Broncos), Kirk Ferentz (Iowa), Thomas Hammock (Northern Illinois), Pat Hill (Fresno State), Hue Jackson (Raiders/Browns), Gary Kubiak (Broncos), Marvin Lewis (Bengals), Mike Macdonald (Seahawks), Jesse Minter (Ravens), Eric Mangini (Browns/Jets), Todd Monken (Browns), Rick Neuheisel (UCLA), Mike Nolan (49ers), Chuck Pagano (Colts), Mike Pettine (Browns), Rex Ryan (Jets/Bills), Jim Schwartz (Lions), David Shaw (Stanford), Mike Singletary (49ers), Mike Smith (Falcons) and Ken Whisenhunt (Cardinals/Titans).

"[Ravens] guys love to play the game, and those are the guys you surround yourself with," states Ryan, who worked with Newsome from 1999-2008. "That's why you have a chance to be successful [in Baltimore]."

DICK CASS

PRESIDENT EMERITUS

COLLEGE: PRINCETON / YALE LAW SCHOOL
BORN: 1/13/46, WASHINGTON, D.C.
SERVED 18 YEARS AS RAVENS TEAM PRESIDENT (2004-22)

Following 18 years as the Ravens' team president, DICK CASS retired on April 1, 2022. Throughout his impressive career, Cass made an indelible impression while overseeing all business areas for the Ravens, including finances, budgeting, non-football personnel, corporate sales, operations, communications and business ventures.

When Steve Bisciotti became the team's majority owner in 2004, his first hire was Cass as president. For the nearly two decades after, Cass provided a wealth of business knowledge, legal and negotiating expertise, philanthropic principles, and a calm and consistent leadership style.

Under his direction, Cass helped create the organizational culture for which the Ravens are known today. Toward the end of his tenure as president, he led the organization through challenges created by the COVID-19 pandemic and worked at the forefront of the team's social justice reform efforts, engaging local and federal legislators to enact policy change. With roots deeply entrenched throughout the Baltimore community, Cass oversaw countless initiatives with the goal of creating better opportunities and circumstances for those most in need. An impactful presence on the board of the Ravens Foundation, Inc., Cass also served on boards for the Greater Baltimore Committee, Kennedy Krieger Institute and Baltimore Community Foundation.

Understanding the value of creating a world-class gameday experience for Ravens fans, Cass spearheaded multiple M&T Bank Stadium improvement/enhancement projects, reaching investment levels over $200 million. Through these efforts, the Ravens have consistently ranked among the NFL's best in gameday experience, as recognized by the annual Voice of the Fan survey. Cass also led the construction and subsequent expansion, at a total cost of more than $90 million, of the Ravens' Under Armour Performance Center, which continues as one of the NFL's best training facilities.

From 2004-21, Cass helped guide Ravens teams that won five AFC North titles, clinched 10 postseason berths, appeared in three AFC Championship games and won one Super Bowl (XLVII in 2012). During his tenure, Baltimore produced the NFL's fifth-best overall winning percentage (.586), including the league's third-best mark at home (.713).

In 2023, Cass was inducted into The Baltimore Sun's Business and Civic Hall of Fame, honoring the achievements of leaders who have spent their careers working to transform and improve Maryland.

Prior to joining the Ravens, Cass spent 31 years (1972-2003) as a partner at D.C.-based law firm Wilmer, Cutler and Pickering. He served as chairman of the firm's Business Transactions Section and was a member of its Management Committee. Some of his significant contributions to WC&P included: counsel to the Independent Commission of the US Olympics Committee (2003); counsel to the owner of the NBA's Charlotte Hornets during the team's relocation to New Orleans (2002); counsel to Steve Bisciotti in the purchase of the Ravens from the Modell family (2000 and 2004); counsel to the estate of Jack Kent Cooke in the sale of the Washington Commanders to Daniel Snyder (1999); counsel to Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones in the acquisition of the team and Texas Stadium (1980s); and advisor to the NFL in connection with the Collective Bargaining Agreement that brought free agency and a salary cap to the NFL (1992-93).

Born in Washington D.C., Cass graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Princeton in 1968 before graduating from Yale Law School in 1971. He and his wife, Heather, have two children: a daughter, Courtney (Ryland Sumner), and son, Willy (Madelaine), and three grandchildren.

DICK CASS' EVERLASTING IMPACT

Cass was instrumental in the development and 2025 opening of the Baltimore Ravens Boys and Girls Club, which serves hundreds of West Baltimore youth and families, providing academic support, mentoring, leadership development, health/wellness programs and athletic opportunities. The new turf field was named in his honor.

UNDER ARMOUR PERFORMANCE CENTER

UNDER ARMOUR PERFORMANCE CENTER

The Ravens opened their Owings Mills training facility in mid-October of 2004. The building, which was named the Under Armour Performance Center in June of 2012, features a brick and stone exterior, with the space totaling 232,864 sq. feet. The fieldhouse is 83,962 sq. feet and includes a strength-training area and a full-size indoor practice field. The facility's outdoor practice fields and fieldhouse sit on 32 acres. Almost all of the project's physical construction was provided by Baltimore-area companies and workers.

When the 2016 season concluded, the Ravens launched a $45 million project to upgrade and expand the Under Armour Performance Center. The massive construction undertaking was fully completed in the summer of 2018.

Over an 18-month project, the Ravens demolished the facility's original one-story north wing, which housed much of the organization's business operations. A new two-story wing was constructed, increasing the area from 9,095 square feet to 23,000 square feet. That expansion created more space for the business side while also providing additional room to enhance the football team's facilities, including the players' locker room, team auditorium, position meeting rooms, scouting/coaching offices and cafeteria.

The UAPC facility houses three Bermuda grass practice fields.

The Ravens have held training camp at their facility since 2011, and part of the 2017-18 renovation project included purchasing more land that surrounds the UAPC. The added space is used for parking and allows the organization to safely host nearly 2,000 fans per day during training camp. In all, there are 775 parking spaces at the facility (525 paved and 250 grass spots).

In July 2026, Baltimore County and the Ravens announced a long-term agreement, building on a 30-year partnership to ensure the team will remain headquartered in Owings Mills while expanding its investment in the facility and its commitment to the surrounding community.

U.S. GREEN BUILDING COUNCIL LEED GOLD USGBC

The UAPC's 2018 north wing addition achieved prestigious LEED Gold level certification, recognizing the Ravens' commitment/dedication to sustainability and environmental stewardship.

UNDER ARMOUR PERFORMANCE CENTER

The facility includes an updated full-service kitchen/cafeteria, player support functions, basketball and racquetball courts, TV/radio studios, plus state-of-the-art requirements for NFL training. Also included at the facility are executive offices, meeting rooms, three outdoor fields and media/production areas.

"Everything a team needs to help prepare it to win is available to us. Steve [Bisciotti] delivered a first-class, state-of-the-art training facility and office complex."
– Ravens Executive Vice President Ozzie Newsome

The Ravens have a world-class weight room, conditioning and recovery center, providing players everything they need to train at peak performance.

Since 2011, the Ravens have held training camp at Under Armour Performance Center, where they host approximately 2,000 fans per day.

The Under Armour Performance Center houses a state-of-the-art production studio the team utilizes for in-house digital and TV broadcasting purposes.

The Ravens' indoor facility has a full, 100-yard turf field that the team uses for offseason training purposes or when the weather becomes inclement.

UNDER ARMOUR PERFORMANCE CENTER

Unveiled in the summer of 2025, the Ravens' new Premium Performance & Wellness space at the Under Armour Performance Center represents a transformative, state-of-the-art renovation focused entirely on optimizing player health, recovery and performance. The reimagined facility features a premium new hydrotherapy suite with lap, therapy, hot and cold plunge pools, custom infrared saunas and enhanced recovery resources, while an expanded training room, dedicated medical and nutrition spaces and improved player flow create a cohesive day-to-day experience.

The centerpiece of the Ravens' new Premium Performance & Wellness space, the hydrotherapy suite, features a 50-foot lap pool, therapy pool, hot and cold plunge pools and recovery-focused amenities.

The renovated Nutrition Hub serves as a central gathering space for players, providing convenient access to fueling resources within the facility's streamlined, athlete-focused layout.

The expanded training room features an open-concept design, enhanced sightlines and direct access to the practice fields, creating a more efficient environment for player treatment and recovery.

Designed around the "path of least resistance," the reimagined layout eliminates dead ends and creates seamless connections between the locker room, meeting rooms, training areas, hydrotherapy suite and practice fields.

"The sole focus of this renovation and investment was our players. The result is absolutely transformative for our ability to provide our players first-class healthcare and an incredible overall experience." – Ravens President Sashi Brown

BALTIMORE RAVENS COLLEGE TRACK CENTER

In 2024, the Ravens, alongside the Bisciotti Family Foundation, made a 10-year commitment of $30M to the CollegeBound Foundation, Bridges Baltimore and College Track ($10M over 10 years for each). College Track used the funding to open a new site in West Baltimore. College Track is a national comprehensive college completion program that makes a 10-year commitment to students from underserved communities who seek to become the first in their families to earn a bachelor's degree. The new space provides dedicated, state-of-the-art learning and support for high school scholars, alongside a team of educators, advisors and career readiness professionals who will guide students through College Track's comprehensive program. The program works in partnership with Baltimore City Public Schools to support students through academic enrichment, college advising, financial literacy, leadership development and career readiness programming. College Track supports more than 4,800 first-generation scholars nationwide, 90% of whom are the first in their family to attend college.

SIGNATURE PROJECT

Fully funded by the Ravens Foundation, Inc., the Ravens annually host an organization-wide volunteer day to renovate and beautify various spaces across Baltimore. Previous project sites have included: Green Street Academy (2025), The Historic Samuel Coleridge-Taylor Elementary School (2024), Morrell Park Elementary (2023) and Franklin Square Elementary/ Middle School (2022). In June, 31 Ravens players joined the 2026 Ravens Rookie class, entire coaching staff and over 150 Ravens staff members to renovate and refurbish spaces and community centers in Baltimore's historic Patterson Park. The project included building picnic tables, gardening, outdoor landscaping, painting, furniture assembly and setting up new tech equipment throughout the areas.

FEMALE LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

The Ravens annually host their L.I.F.T. (Leading and Inspiring Females to Thrive) Conference, a leadership seminar for female student-athletes from local high schools. Freshmen, sophomores and juniors are invited to participate in a day of leadership workshops, guest speakers and a team-building workout at the Ravens Under Armour Performance Center. Student-athletes who serve as both an "untitled leader" and "unsung hero" for their programs can apply for the event. The day is designed to empower the next generation of female student-athletes and develop their leadership skills, both on and off the field. In 2026, students heard from defensive coordinator Anthony Weaver and were led through a workout by Ravens players and assistant strength and conditioning coach Kaelyn Buskey.

Anthony Weaver

YOUTH FOOTBALL

Ravens RISE is the team's football outreach program that provides all youth and high school athletes opportunities to "Play Like A Raven." The program offers football clinics and 7-on-7 tournaments throughout the state, Ravens home game ticket donations, monetary donations to area football programs, opportunities to play at M&T Bank Stadium and recognitions including High School Coach of the Week and Year, as well as Team Mom of the Year. The Ravens also have made financial and time investments in Girls Flag Football, including hosting annual football clinics and supporting counties across Maryland. Last April, Girls Flag Football was announced as an official varsity sanctioned sport in Maryland.

Zay Flowers

CRUCIAL CATCH EFFORTS

Annually, the Ravens host a surprise day of pampering for pre-selected cancer patients. Participants have the opportunity to have their makeup done, receive a massage, select customized permanent bracelets, build flower bouquets and be fitted for a brand-new, custom wig provided by CB Nate Wiggins and his Wiggs Worldwide Foundation. Also, each summer, the team hosts several cancer-focused nonprofit organizations at Ravens Training Camp at the Under Armour Performance Center. Guests of all ages receive a VIP experience, including access to a private viewing area to watch practice, followed by opportunities to interact with players and obtain autographs.

BRLI

The Baltimore Ravens and T. Rowe Price partnered once again to facilitate the Baltimore Ravens High School Leadership Institute. In its seventh year, the program continued its mission to develop and empower high school students to become collaborative leaders. The program has worked with local organization, Business Volunteers, to encourage students to learn valuable leadership lessons, introduce them to local industry leaders, expose them to have insights and equip them with tools needed to make an impactful difference in their communities. The 2026 programing included over 100 Baltimore County high school students, who participated in a customized and unique leadership experience.

MILITARY APPRECIATION

In association with the NFL's Salute to Service Campaign, the Ravens honor veterans and active duty members of the military year-round in many ways, including welcoming military members at training camp practices, hosting new and expecting military families for a Ravens-themed baby shower at M&T Bank Stadium and showing support through care packages, letters and daily communication. At each home game during the 2025 regular season, the Ravens honored groups that included military representatives, first responders, veterans and/or wounded warriors through the CSX Seats for Service program. The Ravens also hosted their annual Youth Football and Military Combine at the Naval Academy, as well as the second annual Fishing with the Vets charter fishing trip.

SOCIAL JUSTICE EFFORTS

Since 2016, the Ravens have donated over $37.4 million to local organizations promoting Social Justice, while encouraging players to be at the forefront of change. In December, the Ravens recognized the late Joni Holifield of HeartSmiles as the 2025 Inspire Change Changemaker. The award saluted an individual from each NFL team who is leading positive change in the Social Justice field. Holifield (who sadly passed away in June) founded HeartSmiles, a nonprofit that provides experiences and resources to Baltimore youth to build their own professional and life skills. Since its inception in 2015, HeartSmiles has provided over $1 million in wages to youth and now serves over 1,500 youth annually. In 2024, high school seniors in HeartSmiles programming had a graduation rate of 100%, exceeding Baltimore's average of 70%.

HOLIDAY HAPPENINGS

Thanks to Ravens players, thousands of families annually receive support, including food and gifts, during the holidays. The 2025 food distributions and meal services featured the support of 44 players, including ILB Teddye Buchanan, OLB Mike Green, S Kyle Hamilton, T Ronnie Stanley and CB Nate Wiggins. In December, the Baltimore Ravens and ILB Roquan Smith hosted the team's 20th Annual Holiday Helpers event. Smith treated students from Bridges Baltimore to a holiday shopping spree alongside fellow teammates. Students were joined by 32 players, including TE Mark Andrews, OLB Tavius Robinson and WR Devontez Walker, who all served as personal shoppers. In addition, several players led their own shopping sprees for local, deserving youth, including RB Derrick Henry, QB Tyler Huntley and QB Lamar Jackson.

S KYLE HAMILTON totaled a career-high 107 tackles (77 solo), 4 TFL, 2 sacks, 1 INT, 9 PD, 2 FFs and 1 FR. Hamilton was the only NFL player to play at least 130 snaps at each slot cornerback, high safety, outside linebacker and edge throughout the 2025 season. He was also the NFL's only safety – and just one of four defenders overall – to record at least 100 tackles (105), 1 sack (1), 2 FFs (2), 5 PD (9) and 5 TFL (7) in 2025.

QB Lamar Jackson completed 192-of-302 passes (63.6%) for 2,549 yards, 21 TDs and 103.8 passer rating, adding 349 yards and 2 TDs on 67 rushes. His 8.44 yards per pass attempt ranked as the league's third-best mark, while his passer rating stood fourth. He became the third QB ever with a 100+ passer rating (103.3) in his first 100 career starts, joining Aaron Rodgers (107.3) and Patrick Mahomes (103.0).

P Jordan Stout notched franchise and NFL bests in net punting average (44.9), while his gross punting average (50.1) ranked first in Ravens history and third in the NFL. He also recorded the longest punt in franchise history (74 yards) on 11/23/15 vs. NYJ. Stout signed a three-year deal with the New York Giants during the 2026 offseason.

GAME HIGHLIGHTS

- RB Derrick Henry finished with 169 rushing yards and 2 TDs on 18 carries (12.5 avg.), marking his 13th game with at least 150 rushing yards and 2 rushing TDs, which ties Jim Brown (13) for the most such games by a player in NFL history.
- Henry now has 48 career 100-yard rushing games, passing HOFers Franco Harris & LaDainian Tomlinson (47 each) for the 11th most in NFL history. It marks Henry's 10th 100-yard game (reg. season) since joining Baltimore in 2024 (2nd in the NFL only to Saquon Barkley's 11 during this time).
- WR DeAndre Hopkins caught 2 passes for 35 yards and 1 TD. He reeled in a spectacular, one-handed, 29-yard TD pass from Lamar Jackson in the third quarter, which was his 84th-career TD reception, which ties Mark Clayton, Irving Fryar, Tommy McDonald and Andre Rison for 22nd on the NFL's all-time list.
- Baltimore registered its ninth-straight game with 150+ rushing yards (including the postseason), which ties the NFL's longest streak in the last 50 seasons.
- The matchup – featuring QB Lamar Jackson (2019 & 2023) and QB Josh Allen (2024) – marked the fifth occurrence all time of the two most recent Most Valuable Players meeting in Week 1. It's the second-consecutive season in which Jackson has faced a former or reigning Most Valuable Player (Patrick Mahomes).

GAME HIGHLIGHTS

- Baltimore's 41-17 victory marked the Ravens' 14th home-opening win during the John Harbaugh Era (since 2008). Baltimore is 14-4 in home openers under Coach Harbaugh, tying Seattle (.778) for the NFL's second-best winning percentage in such games dating back to 2008. Coach Harbaugh recorded his 100th-career regular season win at home.
- LB Roquan Smith finished with 15 tackles (9 solo), including a career-high-tying 3 TFL, 2 QBH and 1 FR returned for a 63-yard TD. His FR-TD marks the first of his career and the second defensive TD of his career (had an INT-TD in 2021 with Chicago). Smith became the first NFL player since at least 2008 to record at least 15 tackles, 3 TFL and 1 defensive TD in a single game.
- Special teams ace LB Jake Hummel blocked a Corey Bojorquez punt in the second quarter, marking Baltimore's first blocked punt since 2016 (Javorius Allen, recovered by Chris Moore for a TD on 11/6/16 vs. Pittsburgh).
- CB Nate Wiggins recorded 3 tackles (2 solo), including 1 TFL, and 1 INT, which he returned for 61 yards. The pick marks the second of his career, both of which have been against Cleveland (INT-TD on 1/4/25).

GAME HIGHLIGHTS

- Baltimore limited Cleveland to 187 net yards of offense and 2-of-14 on third down.
- With an 11-yard reception on Baltimore's opening drive of the game, TE Mark Andrews broke the franchise record for receiving yards, surpassing Derrick Mason (5,777). Andrews becomes the fifth TE in NFL history to lead a franchise in receiving yards, joining Jason Witten (Cowboys), Travis Kelce (Chiefs), Antonio Gates (Chargers) and Ozzie Newsome (Browns). Andrews finished with 32 yards on 3 receptions (10.7 avg.) and 35 yards and 1 TD on 1 rushing attempt. The rushing score was the first of Andrews' career. He scored a go-ahead, 35-yard rushing TD on fourth-and-1 in the fourth quarter. It marked the first rushing TD by a TE in Ravens history and the longest rushing TD by a traditional NFL TE since 2000.
- RB Derrick Henry tallied 103 yards and 1 TD on 18 rushes (5.7 avg.), while adding 19 yards on 2 receptions. Henry scored a 1-yard TD in the second quarter – his seventh TD of the season and the 113th of his career – capping off a 6-play, 63-yard drive.
- S Kyle Hamilton registered a team-high 9 tackles (6 solo), including 1 sack, a career-high 3 TFL, 2 PD and 1 FF. Hamilton became the first DB and the second NFL player (Ravens LB Peter Boulware) since 1999 to post a stat line with at least 9 tackles, 1 sack, 3 TFL, 2 PD and 1 FF in a single game.

GAME HIGHLIGHTS

- CB Marlon Humphrey registered 4 tackles (3 solo), including 1 TFL and 1 FF. He recorded a clutch, fourth-quarter FF, punching the ball away from RB Breece Hall (recovered by S Alohi Gilman) to halt the Jets' red zone possession and give Baltimore its first takeaway of the day. Humphrey's FF was his second of the season and the 17th of his career, which lead all NFL CBs since 2017.
- OLB Dre'Mont Jones registered 4 tackles (2 solo), including 1.5 sacks, and 1 PD. His sack of QB Tyrod Taylor late in the second quarter was his first as a Raven. Jones has 36.5 career sacks and 6 sacks this season. It marks Jones' eighth-career game with more than 1 sack, the last of which was 11/2/25 vs. LAC as a member of the Titans.
- P Jordan Stout punted 4 times for 246 yards (61.5 avg.), with 1 punt downed inside the 20-yard line. Stout's 61.5 gross average broke the previous best single-game franchise record of 56.0 (which Stout recorded on 10/30/25 vs. Mia.), and it is the sixth highest in an NFL game since 1960. Stout booted a career-long 74-yard punt in the second quarter, tying the Ravens' franchise record originally held by Sam Koch (11/9/08 at Hou.).

HISTORY

An emotionally-charged and thrilling six weeks kicked off the Baltimore Ravens' 2012 campaign. Despite playing their first four games in an 18-day span, the Ravens produced a 5-1 record, marking the best start ever under John Harbaugh. Highlighted by a season-opening victory on Monday Night Football against division foe Cincinnati and an exhilarating, last-second triumph over AFC rival New England, the Ravens immediately demonstrated the type of heart and resolve that would allow them to conquer anything in an NFL season.

Climbing to 9-2, Baltimore tied (2006) the then-best record to begin a season in franchise history. Following their Bye Week, the battle-tested Ravens won four-straight games – three of which occurred in hostile road clashes. Though a rash of injuries to key contributors left them shorthanded, the Ravens remained relentless and emerged victorious in hard-fought contests at Cleveland and Pittsburgh. Baltimore's grit was never more on display than in Week 12 at San Diego, when Ray Rice converted a fourth-and-29 catch – later voted "NFL Play of the Year" – to send the game into overtime and help capture the comeback win.

While able to secure the AFC North Title with a decisive victory over the New York Giants in Week 16, the Ravens closed out the regular season by dropping four of their last five games. This stretch included three-consecutive defeats – two by three points – to begin December, all against emerging playoff contenders. Many outsiders perceived the run of losses to be Baltimore's late-season demise, but the Ravens felt otherwise. As each wintry week passed, the team's resilient chemistry never faded, nor did its genuine belief that the best was yet to come.

On Wild Card weekend, before a sellout M&T Bank Stadium crowd that celebrated and saluted Ray Lewis in his final home game, Baltimore pummeled the Colts, 24-9, kick-starting an incredible playoff run. Holding Indy without a touchdown, the Ravens' defense was led by Lewis, who returned to action for the first time since tearing his triceps in Week 6.

"I think we're all appreciative, grateful for the opportunity to be here and to witness this historic moment in sports," head coach John Harbaugh said after the win. "And, it wasn't just about one guy [Lewis]. Nobody understands it more than the one guy we're talking about. It was about a team. It was about a city, a fan base, a great sport, about a great career."

Fresh off an emotional victory over Indianapolis, Baltimore traveled to No. 1 seed Denver for a Divisional Playoff bout. Riding an 11-game win streak, the heavily-favored Broncos had beaten the Ravens, 34-17, in Charm City four weeks prior.

But despite its underdog status, Baltimore approached the game with the brazen attitude of a champion. It was a boldness reinforced by strength gained while facing adversity throughout the season. It was also a resiliency the team had developed and a brotherhood that leaders such as Harbaugh, Lewis, Terrell Suggs, Joe Flacco, Anquan Boldin and Rice had cultivated from Day One.

In what became the fourth-longest game (4:11) in NFL history, the Ravens outlasted the Broncos, 38-35, in double OT, producing an electrifying victory-turned instant classic.

LB Ray Lewis emerges from the M&T Bank Stadium tunnel for the final home intro of his career prior to the Wild Card win over Indianapolis (1/6/13).

WR Jacoby Jones secures QB Joe Flacco's deep pass, connecting for a 70-yard TD to send the Divisional Playoff at Denver (1/12/13) into overtime.

As part of 21 unanswered points by Baltimore, WR Anquan Boldin scores a fourth-quarter TD in the 28-13 AFC Championship victory at New England (1/20/13).

Facing third-and-3 with 31 seconds remaining in regulation, Flacco found Jacoby Jones, who had blazed past defenders down the right sideline, to manufacture an improbable 70-yard touchdown bomb. The crowd-silencing connection cut the deficit to 1, with Justin Tucker then quickly tying the game at 35 to force overtime. Near the end of the extra period, Corey Graham intercepted Peyton Manning, ultimately setting up a 47-yard game-winning field goal by Tucker in double OT and sealing the Ravens' 38-35 win.

"Thanks for bearing witness to one of the greatest football games you're ever going to see," stated Harbaugh after the victory, which sent Baltimore to the AFC Championship for a second-straight season and third time in five years. "That football game did the game of football proud."

Next up was an AFC Title bout with the No. 2 seed Patriots, who just 12 months prior had knocked out Baltimore in the exact same setting. Though the Ravens' hearts were battered following the 2011 playoff loss, the defeat served as an influential lesson and a unifying force. It was an outcome that simultaneously marked the bitter end of a poignant journey, but also some inspiration for a determined 2012 Ravens team.

All season long, as they grinded away for a chance to finish what they had started the year before, the Ravens got what they wanted. And this time, they didn't disappoint.

The Patriots, who owned the NFL's No. 1-ranked and highest-scoring offense, were shut out in the second half by a dominant Ravens "D" that found ways to constantly frazzle Tom Brady and pummel his normally-potent attack. In defeating New England, 28-13, Baltimore clinched a berth in Super Bowl XLVII, seizing the franchise's second conference title.

"Congratulations to our players, to our coaches," Harbaugh said. "[Tonight] was about a football team playing really good football in one of the biggest moments that football has to offer, and that's what I am so proud of as a football coach."

On Feb. 3, 2013, the AFC Champion Ravens battled the NFC Champion 49ers in Super Bowl XLVII. It was the first time in NFL history that two brothers, John and Jim Harbaugh, faced each other as head coaches in a championship game.

"We've seen it all this year," Harbaugh stated before the game. "We've had injuries; we've had adversity; we've had exhilaration; we've had great moments. That's what a season is made of. The team that navigates all these things the best, in the end, will be the one true champion."

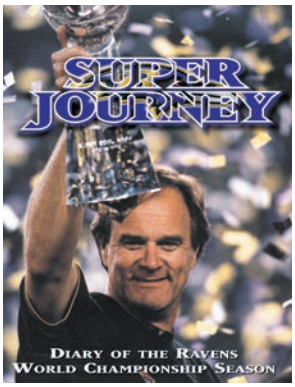
And in the end, no team navigated its voyage better than the 2012 Ravens. In what would become a timeless NFL masterpiece – one bursting with drama at every turn – Baltimore defeated San Francisco, 34-31, becoming the NFL's one true champion.

After taking an early 28-6 lead, the Ravens produced a valiant goal-line stand to clinch their second Super Bowl title. Overcoming a feverish 49ers' second-half comeback and a bizarre 34-minute power outage in the third quarter, Baltimore started fast and finished strong, all while entertaining millions of spectators around the globe.

Spurred by Flacco, who was named the game's MVP after completing 22-of-33 passes for 287 yards and three touchdowns, the Ravens capped a remarkable journey – one that will forever live in football lore.

"We've got a lot of resolve. That's why we won the game," stated Harbaugh, who with the victory set an NFL record for most playoff wins (nine) in a head coach's first five seasons. "It wasn't perfect, it wasn't pretty, but it was us."

John Harbaugh hoists the Lombardi Trophy following the Ravens' thrilling 34-31 victory over San Francisco in Super Bowl XLVII (2/3/13).



The young and brash Baltimore Ravens began the 2000 NFL season talking playoffs and ended the year as World Champions, thanks to one of the most dominant defenses in pro football history.

The Ravens' "Super Journey" began with an ominous regular season schedule that included five road games in seven weeks. In the middle of it all was a five-game streak without a touchdown. Thankfully, the drought never divided the team.

The race toward the Lombardi Trophy was not without its hurdles: Ray Lewis rebounded from a trying offseason; Trent Dilfer, now a Raven, returned to Tampa Bay for the Super Bowl; an emotional Jermaine Lewis dedicated a superb performance to the memory of his stillborn son. Still, the team rallied through the season, and it made the hard-fought victory that much sweeter.

The journey was about the coming of age for talented young players like Jamal Lewis, Chris McAlister and Duane Starks. It also belonged to tough veterans like Rod Woodson, Ray Lewis, Rob Burnett, Shannon Sharpe, Matt Stover, Michael McCrary and Jonathan Ogden.

And the journey also belonged to the fans of Baltimore. The fans numbered in the thousands at the downtown sendoff at Harbor Place. Banners and promises hung in the air, and none would be broken.

While the hometown fans would celebrate with seven-straight days of purple pride, the team took off for Tampa for a week of preparation before the ultimate contest. On Sunday, Jan. 28, 2001, the Ravens kept their promise and defeated the New York Giants, 34-7.

Ray Lewis earned Super Bowl XXXV MVP honors, as well as Defensive Player of the Year. The Ravens tied a then-Super Bowl record with four INTs, and their +5 overall turnover margin ranks as the second-best mark in a Super Bowl. The most exciting new record? Perhaps three successive scores on three seesaw plays. The back-to-back kickoff returns for TDs were yet another new record.

Following the game, owner Art Modell lifted the Lombardi Trophy in the air and said: "To the people of Baltimore City, Baltimore County and the State of Maryland, this belongs to you. From the bottom of my heart, thank you."

When the Ravens flew home on that beautiful, blue-sky Monday after the Super Bowl, they heard about the parade scheduled in their honor for the next day. The icy downpour that Tuesday phased no one. Hundreds of thousands of fans ignored the rain and cold and waited for their heroes to ride by on Baltimore's crowded city streets.

Later, the entire organization was invited to the White House in June to meet President George W. Bush.

12/31 - The Ravens finished 13-3, earning the AFC North Division title and a Bye Week prior to the AFC Divisional Playoffs. The Ravens' No. 1-ranked defense was elite: first in points allowed (201, including just 64 [9.1 per game] in the final seven games – 26 teams allowed 300 or more points for the season); first in total defense (264.1 ypg); first in red zone (33.3% TDs allowed); fewest third downs converted (28.8%) and fewest first downs permitted (236); first in turnover margin (+17) and second in takeaways (40 to Chicago's 44); first in INTs (28, including five for TDs); and second in sacks

(60 to San Diego's 61). The offense led the NFL in time of possession (32:49) and sack ratio (+43); the 17 sacks allowed set a franchise record and were No. 2 in the NFL to Indy's 15.

1/13 - In a Divisional Playoff game that provided great angst for Baltimore's loyal fans, the Ravens were on the wrong side of a 15-6 decision vs. Indianapolis. Not a single TD was scored in this kicking contest between Baltimore's Matt Stover and the Colts' Adam Vinatieri.

Despite an injury report that would have paralyzed most teams, the Ravens never quit. In 2007, the number of games missed by starters was 77, up from just 24 in 2006. By the final game, the Ravens had started three different QBs, including rookie Troy Smith. Baltimore had 12 rookies and one first-year player on the roster, which (13) was the third-most in the NFL to close the year. Baltimore started six different rookies, tying four teams for second most in the NFL. Smith posted only one win versus the AFC North, a 27-21 nailbiter vs. Pittsburgh on 12/30.

2008

1/19 - Steve Bisciotti hired his first head coach – and just the third in Ravens history – John Harbaugh, former special teams/defensive backs coach for the Philadelphia Eagles under Andy Reid. Harbaugh's special teams ranked in the Top 10 of special teams rankings every year from 2000-06, including two first-place finishes. From 2000-06, no team had a higher overall ranking (attribution: The Dallas Morning News). Harbaugh was originally hired in Philadelphia by Ray Rhodes in 1998 and was then retained by Reid.

9/14 - The Ravens' Bye Week was unexpectedly moved to Week 2 after Hurricane Ike ravaged Texas' Gulf Coast area and forced the postponement of Baltimore's game at Houston until Week 10. Due to this schedule change, Baltimore would play 18-consecutive games, including three in the playoffs, before the season concluded.

10/26 - Longtime Ravens T Jonathan Ogden was inducted into the Ravens Ring of Honor during a win over Oakland just four months after his retirement from football.

12/20 - In the last NFL game to ever be played at the Cowboys' historic Texas Stadium, the Ravens defeated Dallas, 33-24, with FB Le'Ron McClain recording the longest run in Texas Stadium history with a career-long 82-yard TD scamper.

12/28 - With a Wild Card playoff spot on the line, Baltimore closed out the regular season with a 9-2 record to earn a No. 6 seed in the postseason. The Ravens beat Jacksonville in the season finale, 27-7, to earn their fifth-ever postseason appearance. After starting the year 2-3, the Ravens rallied to end the regular season with an 11-5 record to earn second place in the AFC North and a Wild Card Playoff berth. The 11 regular season wins set an NFL record for the most by a rookie QB (Joe Flacco) and a first-year head coach (John Harbaugh) tandem. Including the playoffs, Harbaugh and Flacco ended 2008 with 13 wins, a new NFL rookie benchmark.

1/4 - In the 27-9 Wild Card win at Miami, the Ravens' 4 INTs off Dolphins QB Chad Pennington (who threw only 7 during the regular season) tied for the most in team playoff history. S Ed Reed stole two from Pennington, returning the first pick 64 yards for a TD.

1/10 - The Ravens defeated the top-seeded Tennessee Titans at LP Field, 13-10, getting Joe Flacco his second playoff win – the most for a rookie QB in NFL history. A last-minute, 43-yard field goal by K Matt Stover gave Baltimore the win.

1/18 - In the AFC Championship, Baltimore suffered a narrow 23-14 loss to the Pittsburgh Steelers at Heinz Field in a hard-hitting defensive battle, ending the Ravens' playoff run. John Harbaugh solidified himself as one of 12 first-year head coaches in the Super Bowl era to lead his team to the conference championship game.

The Ravens finished the season No. 2 in the NFL with 19 players on IR, the most in team history (at the time). According to Rick Gosselin of The Dallas Morning News, Baltimore lost 64 games by starters.

Baltimore's defense concluded the 2008 season ranked No. 2 in the NFL. In addition to not allowing a 100-yard rusher for the second-straight season (an NFL-best 35 games dating back to 2006), it set three team records: opponent QB rating (60.6), rushing TDs allowed (4) and rushing first downs allowed (58). A league-high 9 INTs by S Ed Reed contributed to the team's NFL top-ranked status for INTs with 26.

1/3 - To cap the 2009 regular season, the Ravens produced their sixth playoff team of the decade (2000-09), which ranked third best (tied with Pittsburgh) in the AFC behind Indianapolis (9) and New England (7).

With a 21-13 win at Oakland (1/3), John Harbaugh and Joe Flacco, who set the NFL record for most wins ever (13, including playoffs) by a rookie head coach starting a rookie QB in 2008, achieved the league mark for clinching the playoffs in their first two seasons by such a tandem.

Harbaugh also became the 10th coach since 1990 to reach the playoffs in his first two seasons as a head coach, while Flacco became the fourth starting QB since the 1970 merger to reach the playoffs in his first two NFL seasons.

The Ravens' "D" finished third in the NFL in total yards (300.5) and third in points allowed (16.3). It was the seventh-straight season Baltimore's defense finished in the NFL's top six.

For the first time in team history, Baltimore had a 3,000-yard passer (Joe Flacco - 3,613), a 1,000-yard rusher (Ray Rice - 1,339) and a 1,000-yard receiver (Derrick Mason - 1,028) in the same season.

1/10 - In the Wild Card game at New England, Baltimore beat the Patriots, 33-14, serving the team its first home playoff defeat since 1978. Baltimore snapped New England's 11-game home playoff winning streak and halted QB Tom Brady's 23-game overall winning streak at home.

The Ravens forced QB Tom Brady into four turnovers (3 INTs and a fumble), finishing the game with a +2 ratio. Baltimore scored 20 points off its 4 turnovers on the day.

Baltimore scored 33 points against the Patriots, the then-second most in Ravens playoff history (34 vs. NYG in Super Bowl XXXV). Twenty-four of the Ravens' points came in the first quarter, tying for the second-most points in the opening quarter of any playoff game in NFL history.

Ray Rice ran for a playoff franchise-record 159 yards and 2 TDs on 22 carries (7.2 avg.), spurring the Ravens' 234-yard rushing output (the then-most in team playoff history).

1/16 - Baltimore fell at Indianapolis in the Divisional game, 20-3. The Ravens held the Colts to 275 net yards (including just 42 rushing), but Baltimore's four turnovers proved too costly.

1/31 - The NFL held its annual Pro Bowl in South Florida, an honor five Ravens earned: LB Ray Lewis (11th), FB Le'Ron McClain (second), DT Haloti Ngata (first), S Ed Reed (sixth) and RB Ray Rice (first).

2011

1/2 - To finish the 2010 season, Baltimore tied Pittsburgh for the best record in the division at 12-4, but lost the AFC North on the division-record tiebreaker (5-1 to 4-2). Baltimore, Indy (a then-NFL record nine in a row) and Philadelphia became the only teams to make the playoffs from 2008-10.

The 2010 campaign also marked the first time the Ravens ever clinched the postseason three years in a row.

This was the third year in a row – the best run in team history – that the Ravens finished third in the NFL in fewest points allowed (16.9 ppg). S Ed Reed missed the first six games of the season rehabbing a hip injury, and despite that, still led the NFL with 8 INTs and 183 INT return yards.

Joe Flacco became the third starting QB since the 1970 merger to make the playoffs in his first three seasons, joining Dan Marino and Bernie Kosar. Flacco posted a Ravens' then-season best 93.6 QB rating and established then-career highs with 3,622 yards and 25 TDs. RB Ray Rice posted 1,776 yards from scrimmage, third most in the NFL, while WR Derrick Mason became the third player in NFL annals to post 11 consecutive seasons with at least 60 catches (Jerry Rice and Tony Gonzalez).

1/9 - In the Wild Card game at Kansas City, the Ravens prevailed 30-7, becoming the only NFL team to win at least one playoff game in each of the last three seasons (2008-10). Harbaugh also became the first head coach in NFL history to win a playoff game in each of his first three seasons (2008-10).

RB Ray Rice bolted for an 83-yard TD run on the first play from scrimmage in the Ravens' Wild Card win over New England during the 2009 playoffs.

In the victory, the Ravens set then-franchise playoff single-game records for the following offensive marks: total net yards (390), first downs (26) and passing yards (248). Baltimore's stingy defense allowed just 161.0 yards of total offense. The Chiefs recorded just 53 net passing yards, which set a Ravens' postseason record.

Flacco set Ravens playoff records (since broken) with 25 completions, 265 yards passing and 2 TDs (on 34 attempts), also producing a then-franchise postseason-record 115.4 QB rating. He earned his fourth-career playoff win and tied Dan Marino for the most combined victories (36) by a QB in his first three seasons.

1/15 - After holding a 21-7 halftime lead, the Ravens fell at Pittsburgh in the Divisional Playoff, 31-24. OLB Terrell Suggs (10) became the Ravens' career postseason sacks leader with his 3-sack performance, and Baltimore's 6 total sacks on the night also set a team playoff record.

1/30 - The Pro Bowl was played in Hawaii, with five Ravens earning 2010 All-Star honors: K Billy Cundiff (first), LB Ray Lewis (12th), DT Haloti Ngata (second), S Ed Reed (seventh) and OLB Terrell Suggs (fourth).

2/14 - Harbaugh and the Ravens agreed to a contract extension (with terms undisclosed).

3/4 - The NFL's Collective Bargaining Agreement between the clubs and NFL Players Association, which was signed in March of 2006, expired.

The Ravens set a then-single-season franchise record by scoring 398 points, averaging the NFL's 10th-most per game (24.9). Flacco and Montana did not throw an INT during those respective postseasons. Flacco finished the game 22-of-33 for 287 yards to produce a 124.2 rating.

In 2012, Flacco also became the first starting QB in NFL history (since 1970 merger) to make the playoffs in each of his first five seasons. Also winning at least one playoff game in each of those postseasons, he compiled nine playoff victories, which tie (Tom Brady) for the most among QBs in the first five seasons of a career.

CAREER SNAPSHOT

Ray Lewis, a 2018 Pro Football Hall of Fame inductee and 13-time Pro Bowler, was the Ravens' second-ever draft choice (26th overall in 1996). Lewis helped guide the Ravens to two Super Bowl titles during his career, capturing the Lombardi Trophy in 2000 and 2012.

Following the 2012 campaign, Lewis, who will be forever known as the greatest linebacker of his generation and one of the best defensive players in NFL history, retired after 17 seasons. Here is a brief look at his storied pro career:

- In 2000, Lewis led a defense that established a 16-game single-season record for fewest points (165) and fewest rushing yards allowed (970), recorded four shutouts (one shy of the post-1970 merger record), and finished first league-wide in six key defensive categories.
- Was the second player in NFL history to win both NFL Defensive Player of the Year and Super Bowl MVP awards (2000)...DT Harvey Martin of Dallas won Defensive Player of the Year in 1977 and was co-MVP of Super Bowl XXII with DT Randy White.
- Is the only player in NFL history with at least 40 career sacks and 30 career INTs (41.5 sacks and 31 INTs).
- Posted a franchise-record 2,643 career tackles, including a single-season team-best 225 stops in 2003.
- Led the Ravens in tackles in 14 of his 17 seasons, registering at least 150 stops 11 times.
- Returned 3 of his 31 INTs for TDs.
- Had a team-record and career-high 25 tackles at NYG (9/14/97).
- Posted seven career 20-tackle games.
- Is second only to Jack Ham (53) in takeaways by a LB in NFL history with 50 total (31 INTs and 19 FRs).

PERENNIAL PRO BOWLER

LB Ray Lewis was invited to 13 Pro Bowls during his career, tying Hall of Famer Reggie White for the most by a defender since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger. Lewis played in 12 Pro Bowls, missing the 2006 Hawaiian classic due to a hand injury. Here are the defenders who have earned the most Pro Bowls during their careers.

Note: The all-time alphabetical roster lists the last-known in-season jersey number worn by a player. The roster includes every year a player was on the team, whether active, IR or PUP list. Additionally, if a player was on the Ravens' 53-man roster at any time, he appears. (However, the roster does not include players who solely spent time on the practice squad or in training camp.)

The all-time numerical roster on the following pages lists all of the jersey numbers worn by a Raven in a game. An example would be NT Kelly Gregg, who wore both 73 and 97 jerseys.

Shutout Fast Fact:

- The Ravens' 15 shutouts are tied with New England for the NFL's most since the franchise's 1996 inception. This mark includes four opponent "blankings" in 2000 and three in 2017. Baltimore's four shutouts in 2000 are the most since the 1976 Steelers produced an NFL-record five such performances. No team since the 2017 Ravens has produced more than two shutouts in a single season.

2026 PRIMETIME NOTES

- The Ravens are initially scheduled to play four primetime games (Sunday at Atlanta, Thursday vs. Jacksonville, Monday vs. LA Chargers and Thursday at Cincinnati) in 2026, which marks their sixth consecutive season with at least four primetime games.
- Baltimore begins primetime play in Week 5 (Oct. 11) at the Falcons, marking just the second time the teams have battled in primetime (first occurred in 2010, also in Atlanta). Dating back to 2000, the Ravens own an NFL-best 16 primetime victories against interconference opponents.
- Entering 2026, QB Lamar Jackson has led the Ravens to a 21-10 record when starting under center in primetime. His .677 winning percentage as a starter in primetime contests ties for third best among active quarterbacks.

M&T BANK STADIUM

M&T Bank Stadium is where NFL excitement begins any given gameday. And that's because Baltimore Ravens home games and M&T Bank Stadium have become synonymous with winning.

Since earning their first Super Bowl title in 2000, the Ravens have posted an impressive home record of 148-63, marking the NFL's third-best winning percentage (.701).

Located at the south point of Camden Yards, M&T Bank Stadium stands as a premier NFL sports facility and world-class entertainment venue. Fans – proud of their Baltimore heritage – enjoy the latest technology, including stunning 4K ultra-high definition displays on the RavensVision video boards, a high-density Wi-Fi network, state-of-the-art concourse designs and indoor/outdoor LED (light emitting diode) Sports Lights. Combined with these exclusive amenities, the game's excitement gives fans, friends and families an opportunity to enjoy the day together. With a capacity of 70,257, this impressive structure draws its distinctive design from the best of Baltimore's architecture.

Originally built in 1998 at a cost of $220 million, the stadium has 142 suites and 8,332 club seats. HOK architects designed both Oriole Park at Camden Yards and the Ravens' home. The latter was completed in less than two years and funded through a combination of proceeds generated from debt service paid by lottery proceeds, the sale of tax-exempt revenue bonds and the Ravens.

M&T BANK STADIUM ENHANCEMENTS

In December 2023, the Baltimore Ravens announced "The Next Evolution," a three-year (2024-26) transformative renovation project at M&T Bank Stadium. These upgrades enhance the gameday experience and provide year-round offerings for all fans, ensuring "The Bank" as one of the top sports and entertainment venues in the world.

In 2019, the Ravens completed self-funded enhancements to the fan experience at M&T Bank Stadium. Demonstrating a continued commitment to create an exceptional gameday atmosphere, the improvements included new 4K ultra-high definition video displays, escalators and elevators to the upper deck, a new sound system, upgraded kitchen facilities, a redesigned club level, updated suites and LED Sports Lights.

In 2015, the Ravens completed a two-year series of projects to upgrade Wi-Fi capabilities, replay technology, LED video displays, concession stands, concourses and security measures.

2024-26 PROJECTS: "THE NEXT EVOLUTION"

In addition to substantial developments on the exterior plazas, every level of the venue underwent renovations – thus completely transforming the stadium experience for all and ensuring that M&T Bank Stadium remains a world-class NFL and entertainment venue well into the future.

Learn more about each of the projects below:

The following projects were completed in 2024:

Miller Lite Gatehouse: A gateway to M&T Bank Stadium, the Gatehouse offers two levels of social space for fans to experience before, during and after every home game.

Blackwing Presented by Sagamore: Guests of M&T Bank Stadium can enjoy the best game-action view in the building from the most luxurious accommodations available.

Field Seats: Field Seat PSLs at M&T Bank Stadium offer a novel experience and point of view that only a select few season ticket holders can have on gameday.

The following projects were completed in 2025:

West Retail (Section 140): Situated on the west side of M&T Bank Stadium, the original ticket office was converted into a 4,900 square foot modern retail store open on gameday.

New Food & Beverage Location (Section 153): A former retail store at Gate A was converted to a new walkthrough drink market concept.

The Raven: Situated near the 50-yard line and underneath the lower level, The Raven is located on the north side of M&T Bank Stadium and provides an elevated club experience.

Champions Club Presented by T. Rowe Price: Located behind the west end zone, the Champions Club is home to two featured bars celebrating each of the Ravens' Super Bowl victories.

The Trust Presented by M&T Bank: The Trust, located on the south side of the staduym, is an ultra-premium, lower concourse club that offers unique team access, including views of the Ravens' player tunnel at the 50-yard line and the post-game press conference room.

Legends Suites Presented by T. Rowe Price (West End Zone): Suite holders can take in the game from two rows of seating directly on the field in the west end zone of M&T Bank Stadium.

The following projects were completed in 2026:

North Plaza: Serving as the Grand Entrance to M&T Bank Stadium, the revitalized North Plaza features two large structures flanking the gates.

- The Talon & Backstage: The west structure includes an open-air tailgate and concert venue (The Talon), with three levels of viewing, a main stage and an indoor sports bar (Backstage) on the main level that will quickly become the stadium's premier pre-game destinations.
- The Flock Shop & The Landing: The east structure features a 7,000 square foot retail space (opened in 2025), The Flock Shop, with a second-floor hospitality area called The Landing that features two bar and lounge spaces overlooking the North Plaza.

The FlockYard: A state-of-the-art, flexible use hospitality area, The FlockYard consists of a multi-level structure centered around a communal courtyard and large LED board. The structure itself has several climate controlled private spaces with removable walls to accommodate a wide variety of events.

The Overlook: Concourses on the Upper Level of M&T Bank Stadium will expand in multiple areas, providing fans in "The Perch" additional space to enjoy unique food offerings and pre-game parties, while enjoying the best views of Charm City.

Stadium Video Displays: ANC installed four new high-definition outdoor displays in the upper concourse, a outdoor mesh LED display on the northwest plaza façade and a outdoor video display at The Talon. Gate A received two new fine-pitch outdoor displays, while the Backstage sports bar was upgraded with a indoor display.

M&T BANK STADIUM

2017-19 PROJECTS: PHASE ONE

Phase One of the the M&T Bank Stadium enhancements project was completed prior to the 2017 season. These improvements included the following:

RavensVision: Two dramatic, 4K ultra-high definition video displays doubled the width of the stadium's previous standard HD boards. The new boards, measuring approximately 200 feet wide and 36 feet high, feature one of the highest resolution and clearest picture of any stadium video display in the United States.

Ribbon Displays: The addition of four LED ribbon boards on the Club Level and Suite Level fascia measured a combined 2,373 feet with almost three times the pixel resolution over the previous ribbon boards.

Production Technology: The Ravens expanded the audio/video control room and installed 4K cameras, lenses and control equipment. An investment was also made in 11 manned cameras and additional robotic cameras. The Ravens also became the first team to have a permanently installed SkyCam.

2017-19 PROJECTS: PHASES TWO & THREE

Phases Two and Three of the M&T Bank Stadium enhancements project were completed prior to the 2019 season. These improvements included the following:

Escalators & Elevators: Escalators and elevators to the 500 level were installed to improve crowd flow and ensure convenience for fans accessing seats in the upper level.

Suites & Video Boards: New suites were built into each open notch of the stadium's upper bowl. Large 4K ultra-high definition video boards, measuring approximately 33 feet wide and 44 feet high, were installed atop each of the four suites, providing fans with additional in-game content, NFL highlights/scores, statistics and fantasy information.

Club Level: All concessions stands and bar/lounge areas on the stadium's club level received upgrades. These developments enhanced the area's general design/comfort, audio/visual capabilities, quality of service and food options.

Kitchen Facilities: The stadium underwent kitchen renovations to include new equipment, improving the quality of food and providing more options at concessions stands throughout the entire venue.

Sound System: A new sound system in the seating bowl was installed prior to the start of the 2018 NFL season.

LED Sports Lights: The top of the stadium was furnished with LED Sports Lights, providing more energy efficiency and the capability to instantly switch between on and off.

2013-15 PROJECTS

As part of a two-year investment in 2013, the Ravens began a series of projects to upgrade Wi-Fi capabilities, replay technology, LED video displays, concession stands, concourses and security measures.

Wi-Fi: In 2015, the Ravens installed Wi-Fi access for fans at M&T Bank Stadium. Almost 800 access points and antennas, both inside and outside the venue, were added.

The Wi-Fi at M&T Bank Stadium is presented by Verizon.

Replay Systems: In 2015, the Ravens installed the capability to show 360-degree replays with a newly-implemented and upgraded Intel freeD system. By using 38 cameras placed around the stadium, fans can view angles of action previously impossible to see. The Ravens were the first NFL franchise capable of providing 360-degree shots. The technology won a Sports Emmy Award for best in Technical Achievement from Super Bowl 50.

Video Boards: Two LED high-definition video boards, measuring more than 8 feet high and 30 feet wide, were installed at the concourse entrances of gates A and D. (Approximately 60 percent of fans enter gate A for all stadium events.) The high-definition boards have split-screen capabilities and display a variety of content, ranging from in-game action, highlights, NFL scores, stats, welcome messaging and video.

Four new LED boards, measuring 18 feet high and 18 feet wide, were installed on the sides of the two HD video boards in the stadium's inner bowl. Another four large LED screens, each measuring 6 feet tall and 22 feet wide, were added to the upper level concourse.

Additionally, four new LED ribbon boards were installed to connect fully around the entire middle seating bowl. The east/west board measures 2.5 feet high and 96 feet wide, while the north and south boards are each 3.5 feet high and over 650 feet long

Concessions: Concessions stands were upgraded with all new equipment to provide quicker service, higher-quality foods and expanded selections displayed on digital menu boards.

Additionally, 34 points of sale were added to speed up the checkout process, allowing fans to return to their seats in a more timely manner.

Concourses: In 2013 and 2014, all concourses were redesigned with a "Ravenized" theme, influenced by the brick and steel look of M&T Bank Stadium's exterior and buildings on the Camden Yards complex. These features include support columns wrapped in brick, purple accent lighting and enhanced directional signage throughout each of the venue's concourses.

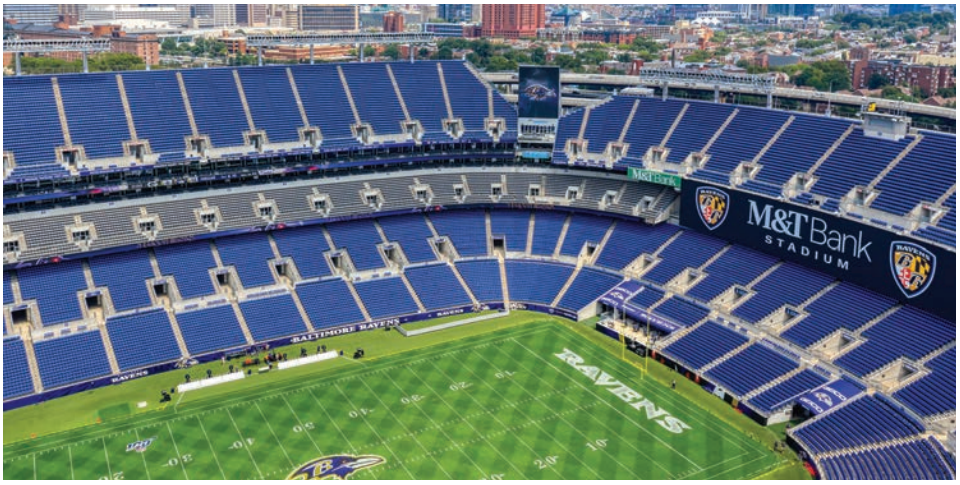
RAVENSVISION BOARDS



• In 2017, the Ravens made an investment to create a more immersive gameday experience for their fans. Designed and created by Prismview, a Samsung Electronics Company, the RavensVision ultra-HD 4K video screens each measure 36 feet high and 201 feet wide. Each display is the equivalent of a 2,448-inch flat panel television. It would take over 1,000 40-inch flat screen TVs to equal one of these giant LED displays. Each display has extreme contrast face plastics combined with over 6 million individual LED pixels providing brilliant images in bright sunlight and during night events.

• The high definition resolution allows for some of the best graphics and game action video in the league, live game highlights from around the NFL, instant replays, scores, statistics, plus player updates and features.

• The two giant screens are made up of modular LED panels – 13 inches wide by 6.5 inches tall. Each of these premium LED modules contain 512 pixels, spaced only 10mm - 0.39" apart. Due to the massive size of these displays, these panels were assembled from 50 sections. Each display weighs in at an amazing 76,500 pounds.

SEATING

• At 1.6 million square feet and with a seating capacity of 70,257, the stadium is substantially larger than Oriole Park at Camden Yards to the north.

• ADA seating is located on every level.

• The 8,332 club seats at M&T Bank Stadium offer extra-wide comfort, plus VIP parking, access to the club lounges serving specialty foods, fully-staffed bars, concierge services and scenic views of downtown Baltimore.

• Each of the stadium's 142 suites feature upscale lounge furniture, a private kitchen, high-definition TVs, Wi-Fi, a private restroom, VIP parking and personal catering. Many other exclusive amenities and events are also available to suite owners.

TRANSPORTATION, PARKING & TAILGATING

• Located at 1101 Russell Street, M&T Bank Stadium is surrounded on all sides by the following elevated roadways: I-95 and the Hamburg St. bridge to the north; I-95 and I-395 (plus Light Rail line) to the east; the Ostend St. bridge to the south; and the Russell St. viaduct to the west.

• Fans can easily access the stadium using mass transit. The Light Rail has a drop-off point located directly outside Gate B and the transit system has stops within walking distance.

• Parking in stadium lots is limited to permit holders, but downtown garages are available for gameday parking, just a short walk away. Parking in offsite lots can be reserved in advance with SpotHero at www.baltimoreravens.com/stadium/directions-parking.

• Suggested areas for exiting guests to possibly pick up a rideshare provider include north of the stadium (past Oriole Park), south of the stadium (Horsheshoe Casino) and east of the stadium (Federal Hill). For more information, visit: www.baltimoreravens.com/stadium/rideshare.

• Tailgating is welcomed in select lots at M&T Bank Stadium. For complete Tailgate Lot information, call the Ravens' Ticket Office at (410) 261-7283.

STATUES

• In October 2002, after the passing of iconic QB Johnny Unitas, the Ravens erected a statue (left) of the Colts' legend. The piece was sculpted by local artist Frederick Kail, who was commissioned by a grassroots group that included donations from the Steve Bisciotti family, the Art Modell family, the Baltimore Orioles and numerous others. One of the signature elements of the bronze work is the famous black high tops – John's favorite football shoe. Many Ravens fans touch the left shoe of the statue for good luck prior to every game.

• In 2014, the Ravens unveiled a second statue (right) of Hall of Fame LB Ray Lewis, another Baltimore icon and perhaps the greatest defender in NFL history. Lewis, the team's second-ever draft pick, won two Super Bowls during his 17-year career in Baltimore.

Both statues will return to Gate A in the North Plaza, after being temporarily relocated due to construction.*

RENEWED LEASE

The Ravens renewed their lease at M&T Bank Stadium on Jan. 4, 2023, keeping them in Baltimore playing home games at "The Bank" through at least the end of the 2037 NFL season. The agreement between the Ravens and Maryland Stadium Authority, providing opportunities to expand the economic impact of games and other year-round activities at the stadium, was presented to the Maryland Board of Public Works and received unanimous approval. The deal also includes two five-year options to extend the lease beyond 2037. Through funds from state-issued bonds, the lease agreement paved the way for significant M&T Bank Stadium enhancement projects from 2024-26.

M&T BANK STADIUM NAMING RIGHTS

On April 20, 2023, M&T Bank and the Ravens announced an extension to their strategic partnership for another 10 years beyond the contract that was set to expire after the 2027 season. The latest agreement, which came almost 20 years to the day after the organizations originally entered a partnership, extends their collaborate efforts through 2037.

Just like the initial agreement in 2003 and extension in 2014, the latest deal ensures a partnership that reaches far beyond putting the bank's name on the stadium. It includes an array of joint community-focused programs and additional investments to provide financial literacy education to Greater Baltimore students.

"When I first met [former M&T regional president] Bob Sadler in 2003, it quickly became apparent that M&T Bank is a special organization and that we could be tremendous partners," said Ravens owner Steve Bisciotti. "From that moment, I knew we were aligned in the objective to serve our community, and it was clear that this wouldn't be a short-term partnership. Their commitment is so much deeper than the name on a stadium. They have impacted countless individuals and organizations with exceptional compassion, and I couldn't be happier with our relationship. We take great pride in our collaboration with M&T Bank, because our efforts are built on mutual respect and a meaningful connection to the community."

Along with several joint initiatives, such as Honor Rows and Touchdown for Teachers (see next page), employees of M&T Bank and the Ravens have rolled up their sleeves together to volunteer in communities throughout Baltimore during the past two decades. Those projects have included neighborhood landscaping and beautification, stream clean-ups, food drives, school supply distribution, playground construction, oyster habitat maintenance and more. In 2019, M&T and the Ravens partnered with the Boys & Girls Clubs of Baltimore to renovate the Webster Kendrick Club at Callaway Elementary School in Baltimore. In 2022, more than 100 volunteers from M&T and the Ravens picked thousands of pounds of potatoes at First Fruits Farm in Baltimore County for distribution to food banks and pantries throughout Central Maryland and parts of Pennsylvania and Virginia. More than 150 employees from both organizations also have participated in Earth Day clean-up activities over the past several years, including the most recent project at Port Covington Marina on April 17, 2026 (see next page).

"The partnership between M&T and the Ravens has worked so well for so long because the organizations share similar values of integrity, determination and teamwork and a common mission to make Baltimore better," said Augie Chiasera, M&T Bank's regional president for Greater Baltimore. "We take a lot of pride in seeing the M&T Bank name on our football team's stadium. It's a symbol of our commitment to serve the Baltimore community."

M&T BANK PARTNERSHIP

HONOR ROWS

Since 2003, M&T Bank and the Baltimore Ravens have honored over 20,000 young people from a range of organizations, recognizing their outstanding volunteer work. For each Ravens home game, 100 young people receive tickets, Honor Rows T-shirts, a pre-game on-field visit and official in-game recognition on the RavensVision HD video screens.

TOUCHDOWNS FOR TEACHERS

The Touchdown for Teachers program recognizes local teachers for outstanding service to their schools and communities. Three finalists are chosen annually based on their involvement in the school or community, degree of positive impact and demonstrated commitment to education. In 2026, the grand prize was awarded to Ebony Dixon (below), a family and consumer sciences teacher at Harper's Choice Middle School in Columbia, MD.

Ms. Dixon was selected from a highly competitive group of distinguished educators for her exceptional commitment to student achievement, mentorship and community impact. She is currently pursuing a doctorate at Notre Dame of Maryland University and was selected to participate in a prestigious NASA program for science educators.

In addition to leading the CATS (Cougar Academic Tracks for Success) after-school program, Ms. Dixon teaches reading, leads service-learning initiatives, and creates enrichment opportunities, including forensic science investigations. She also organizes the annual Black History Month luncheon, secured a $40,000 mobile STEM lab, and obtained over 10,000 pairs of socks through grant funding with Bombas.

Dixon received $5,000 in grant funds, payable to her school, a school visit by Baltimore Ravens CB Chidobe Awuzie, Ravens Cheerleaders and Poe, and a customized Ravens jersey. The other finalists each received a personalized Ravens jersey and $1,000 in grant funds, payable to their schools. All grant funds were jointly provided by M&T Bank and the Ravens.

2026 EARTH DAY CLEAN-UP

In celebration of Earth Day, the Baltimore Ravens, M&T Bank and Waterfront Partnership hosted a significant volunteer event in support of the Healthy Harbor Initiative. Additional volunteers representing Point Field Partners and the Bisciotti Family Foundation were also present to contribute to the efforts. Approximately 70 volunteers representing the organizations participated in volunteer activities in support of Baltimore's Inner Harbor. Volunteers engaged in a morning of oyster gardening, habitat maintenance and data collection, as well as applying a fresh coat of paint on the Ravens-branded Mr. Trash Wheel dumpster.

FINANCIAL FITNESS ACADEMY

M&T Bank and the Baltimore Ravens have teamed up to launch the "Financial Fitness Academy," powered by EVERFI from Blackbaud, which is an online, interactive financial education resource designed for students in grades 4-6 to promote financial literacy and teach financial education skills. The course introduces critical financial concepts and skills to students in fun, engaging and age-appropriate ways to empower them to make smart financial decisions.

M&T BANK STADIUM: THE GOLD STANDARD

LEED GOLD RECOGNITION

In 2013, the Ravens, in partnership with the Maryland Stadium Authority (MSA), earned a LEED-certified Gold designation for M&T Bank Stadium from the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC). The venue then received LEED Gold re-certification in 2019. In 2026, M&T Bank Stadium is undergoing LEED Gold recertification once again.

LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) strives to deliver energy- and water-efficient, healthy, environmentally-friendly, cost-savings buildings, homes and communities.

M&T Bank Stadium became the first existing outdoor professional sports facility in the United States – including all NFL and Major League Baseball stadiums – to receive USGBC's Gold rating. A LEED certification is recognized across the globe as the premier mark of achievement in green building.

SAFETY & SECURITY RECOGNITIONS

In June of 2022, M&T Bank Stadium received the National Center for Spectator Sports Safety and Security (NCS4) Facility of Merit Award. The Facility of Merit Award recognizes a facility that has performed above and beyond normal operations to demonstrate an innovative approach to enhancing safety and security.

M&T Bank Stadium was recognized for its leadership in addressing safety and security issues as part of the 2022 National Sports Safety and Security Conference & Exhibition.

DESIGNATED SAFETY ACT

M&T Bank STADIUM

In April 2020, the Ravens announced that M&T Bank Stadium had been recognized by the United States Department of Homeland Security (DHS) with a SAFETY Act Designation, acknowledging excellence in gameday security practices.

The Ravens received the SAFETY Act Designation for the M&T Bank Stadium Security Program, a comprehensive program that includes the screening of visitors and packages, emergency plans, threat assessments, physical and electronic security equipment, and trained personnel. The security program applies to the entire stadium property, including the seating bowl and suites, gates, loading dock, inner and secondary perimeters, field, locker rooms, utility and mechanical systems, and command center.

M&T BANK STADIUM PLAYING SURFACE

In May of 2016, the Ravens switched from artificial turf to natural grass at M&T Bank Stadium. As former team president Dick Cass stated, "The players really wanted to play on grass, and that was a key consideration." Baltimore had natural grass in the stadium when it first opened in 1998, but the Ravens changed to an artificial turf from Sportexe Momentum Turf for the 2003 season, and then replaced that with a newer Shaw Momentum 51 turf prior to the start of 2010. The Ravens now play on this new strain of grass, developed on a sod farm in North Carolina, that is a mixture of Bermuda and some rye. Officials believe it is more robust than what was previously played on in the stadium. The Ravens also use special artificial lights/lamps to keep grass growing where the field is shaded, particularly during the winter months.

GAMEDAY BROADCAST TEAM

Pictured at right is the latest addition to the 2026 radio team, the new "Voice of the Ravens" for Baltimore's in-season radio and preseason TV broadcasts, Kyle Youmans. He follows Gerry Sandusky, who retired after 20 seasons (2006-25) as the Ravens' radio play-by-play voice. Youmans, a Texas native, spent the past seven seasons (2019-25) with the Dallas Cowboys' media team as a TV host, producer and reporter. In addition to his responsibilities with the Cowboys, Youmans has served as a play-by-play announcer for college football and college basketball on Compass Media Networks, calling games in the SEC, ACC, Big 12 and Big Ten. He was also the soundtrack for multiple sports inside the American Athletic Conference, Big 12 and University of North Texas on various ESPN platforms. Additionally, Youmans spent four seasons (2022-26) as the TV voice of the Texas Legends, the Dallas Mavericks' G League affiliate. Throughout his career, he has called play-by-play for over 750 radio/TV broadcasts. Youmans joins Pro Football Hall of Fame defensive back and member of the Ravens' Super Bowl XXXV-winning team, Rod Woodson, who serves as analyst. The duo brings a wealth of football knowledge and experience to game broadcasts on WBAL Radio 1090 AM/101.5 FM and 98Rock WIYY (97.9 FM). The broadcasts are also streamed live on baltimoreravens.com.

All Ravens games can be heard on 98Rock WIYY (97.9 FM), WBAL 1090 AM/101.5 FM, ESPN 630 AM (Washington, D.C.), baltimoreravens.com and in the Ravens Mobile App (when fans are in Baltimore). This network broadcasts each game with affiliates spanning four states – Maryland, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia – and Washington, D.C. The Spanish radio broadcast of all Ravens games can be heard on Tico Sports.

All three of the Ravens' 2026 preseason games are simulcast on radio and TV by Youmans, with Woodson providing analysis and CBS Sports' Evan Washburn (seen at right with Lamar Jackson) handling sideline reporting duties.

The Emmy Award-winning preseason TV broadcasts and pre-game shows are produced by Ravens Productions, led by director of productions Matt Brevet, producer Andy Bock and director Lou Kusserow. They air on WBAL-TV (Baltimore, Md.), WJLA (Washington, D.C.), WGAL (York/Lancaster/Harrisburg, Pa.), WBOC (Salisbury, Md.), WWCW/WFXR (Roanoke, Va.), WTVZ (Norfolk, Va.), WUPV (Richmond, Va.), WHSV/WSVF/WSVF.2/WSVW (Harrisonburg, Va.), WSAZ/WQCW (Charleston/Weston WV) WKYT/WYMT (Lexington, KY) and WLKY (Louisville, KY). Broadcasts are also simulcast on all radio affiliates (listed below).
